

How to Login to Everyday Math for Students

1. Students need to go to Google.com
2. They will click the sign-in on the top right corner
3. Their login username is their student id/lunch number@mustangps.org. Their password is the same as they use to login to a school computer
4. For example if a student's lunch number is 12345, their login would be 12345@mustangps.org and their password is their school computer password.
5. Once logged in, they will click the 3x3 area (looks like a waffle) in the top right corner. They will click the Google Drive Icon.
6. Once in Google Drive, they will click the 3x3 Icon again and at the bottom will be the McGraw-Hill Icon (it is red). If it doesn't show up, click more and you will see it.
7. When you click the McGraw Hill Icon it will take them to their Everyday Math page where they can play games, see tutorials, and practice.
